Important Information for Start-Up Farmers

Conn. Gen. Stat. §12-412(63)(E) allows a start-up farmer to receive an exemption permit, if:

- You intend to carry on agricultural production for at least two years; and
- Your gross income from farming will be at least $2,500 in the second year, or an average of $2,500 per year for both years; and
- Your gross expenses from farming will be at least $2,500 in the second year, or an average of $2,500 per year for both years.

You must pay use tax on all purchases made using an exemption permit if you do not meet these conditions. See Informational Publication 2004 (14), Farmer's Guide to Sales and Use Taxes, Motor Vehicle Fuels Tax, Estimated Income Tax, and Withholding Tax.

General Instructions

Use Form REG-8 to request a Farmer Tax Exemption Permit if you engage in agricultural production as a trade or business. The Farmer Tax Exemption Permit allows a farmer to purchase tangible personal property used exclusively in the agricultural production process without paying Connecticut sales and use taxes and allows a farmer to purchase motor vehicle fuels used exclusively in the agricultural production process without paying motor vehicle fuels excise tax.

The Department of Revenue Services (DRS) now issues a Farmer Tax Exemption Permit for up to two years, depending on the application date. An exemption permit issued October 1, 2004, or later, is valid until September 30, 2006.

DRS will issue a Farmer Tax Exemption Permit if you meet all three of the following conditions:

1. You are engaged in agricultural production as a trade or business. To be engaged in agricultural production as a trade or business, you must materially participate in the activity with a profit motive.
2. You reported, for federal income tax purposes, gross income of $2,500 or more from agricultural production:
 - for the preceding taxable year; or
 - on average, for the preceding two taxable years.

This gross income is generally reported on federal Form 4835, Schedule C, or Schedule F attached to federal Form 1040, 1041, 1120, or 1065. A corporation must submit the same information as would be reported on Schedule F, even though it would not file a Schedule F for federal income tax purposes. (See instructions for Line 9 below.)

3. You must submit the following pages of your 2003 federal income tax return and copies of any federal income tax return schedules (for example, Form 4835, Schedule C, or Schedule F). If you apply on or after April 15, 2005, attach the specified pages of your 2004 federal income tax return and copies of any federal income tax return schedules (for example, Form 4835, Schedule C, or Schedule F). Failure to attach the required forms may delay the processing of the application.
 - Individuals must furnish a signed copy of federal Form 1040 (Pages 1 and 2) and copies of any federal income tax return schedules (for example, Form 4835, Schedule C, or Schedule F). A husband and wife who file a joint federal income tax return can file a joint Form REG-8, Application for Farmer Tax Exemption Permit, if both enter and sign their names on the application.
 - Fiduciaries of estates or trusts must furnish a signed copy of Page 1 of federal Form 1041 and copies of any federal income tax return schedules that detail the income and expenses (for example, Form 4835, Schedule C or Schedule F).
 - Partnerships must furnish a signed copy of Page 1 of federal Form 1065 and copies of any federal income tax return schedules that detail the income and expenses (for example, Form 4835, Schedule C, or Schedule F).
 - Corporations must furnish a signed copy of Page 1 of federal Form 1120, 1120A, or 1120S. In addition, a corporation must submit with this application the same information as would be reported on federal Form 4835, Schedule C, or Schedule F, even though it would not file a Schedule C or F for federal income tax purposes. The items reported must correspond with what was reported on the corporation's Form 1120, 1120A, or 1120S. If your taxable year ends in January, February, or March, attach the return for the taxable year beginning in 2003. If your taxable year ends in April, May, June, July, August, September, October, November, or December, attach the return for the taxable year beginning in 2002.

If you submit a federal Schedule C, you must also attach a list of agricultural products raised or agricultural services provided by you and the amount of sales from each agricultural product or service with itemized expenses related to the agricultural product or service.

Sales and Use Tax Permit Required

A farmer selling goods must register for a Sales and Use Tax Permit and collect sales tax on the taxable sales. Taxable goods commonly sold by farmers include plants, certain seeds, hay, feed, mulch, fertilizer (including manure), livestock, poultry, rabbits, Christmas trees (living or cut), wreaths, decorated or carved pumpkins, and flowers.

Line Instructions

If you are applying for a permit as a start-up farmer, answer only those question that are applicable. Enter None if the question asks for information about a year when you were not engaged in agricultural production as a trade or business.

Line 1: Check Yes if you are engaged in one of the following as a trade or business:

- Raising and harvesting any agricultural or horticultural commodity;
- Dairy farming;
- Forestry (however, persons who purchase standing timber or who cut timber and resell the logs to a mill are not considered to be engaged in agricultural production);
- Raising livestock (including horses), bees, poultry, fur-bearing animals, or wildlife;
- Raising and harvesting fish, oysters, clams, mussels, or other molluscan shellfish;
- Boarding horses.

Lines 4 and 5: Describe in detail the farm products produced by you for sale. For example, a dairy farmer who owns milk cows should list milk as the product. A vegetable farmer should list the specific vegetable(s) grown for sale.

Products purchased by you for resale are not agricultural products produced by you in agricultural production. For example, do not list cut flowers or plants purchased by you for resale.

Line 9: The amount on Line 9b is generally the amount reported either on Line 4 of the 2003 federal Schedule F or on Line 1 of the 2003 federal Schedule C. (Persons filing 2003 Schedule F who are accrual basis taxpayers report the amount entered on Line 38 of the 2003 Schedule F.) If you are in the business of raising, feeding, caring for, training, or managing livestock, including horses, you must enter the total gross income received from these activities. If your gross income for 2003 was less than the $2,500 requirement, you can now qualify for the exemption permit if your income in 2002 and 2003 averaged $2,500. Provide your gross income for each year only if you are using this method to qualify for the exemption permit.

Line 10: If the gross income entered on Line 9 was less than $2,500 and in the current or immediately preceding taxable year you purchased an agricultural trade or business from a seller who was issued a Farmer Tax Exemption Permit at the time of the purchase, enter the seller's name and Farmer Tax Exemption Permit number.
